PASSED AFTER A LIVELY DEBATE. Mr. S. C. Clark objected to the immediate consideration of the rule, which, he thought, should lay on the table. He made a motion to that effect.

Dr. W. W. Hubbell spoke in favor of the rule. He thought it foolishness to discuss the right of suffrage in this association when the whole matter was under the control of Congress and provided for in the constitution.

Mr. M. I. Weller thought it would be a waste liberty party on September 16. He stated that of time for the association to take up its valuable time in discussing theoretical matters. IMPROVEMENT OF TENTH STREET. Mr. F. A. Lehmann, from the committee on tion offered by Mr. M. I. Weller relating to an increase of police service in the public parks and reservations, and recommended its adoption and reference to the committee to draft proposed legislation, to prepare a bill in accordance therewith and to appear before the District Commissioners and the proper committees of Congress and urge its passage.

Continuing he said:

Col. Ernst, commissioner of public buildings and grounds, and Col. Moore, superintendent of police, kindly met with the committee and gave valuable information that will assist the association in its efforts to secure the desired legislation.

STATEMENTS OF COLS. ERNST AND MOORE. Col. Ernst stated that he now has twenty-two men on duty in the public parks and reservations and that four of them are on duty in tions and that four of them are on duty in Armory Square, Smithsonian grounds, &c., and one in Judiciary Square until 12 o'clock at night; that no other night duty is performed by them. He also stated that with an increased force of twenty-eight men at $70 per month, amounting to $23,520 per annum, with a captain of watch at $1,800 per year (total cost, $25,320), he could properly police the parks and reservations day and night, excepting the Capitol grounds.

The committee further believes that their number should be so increased that they can properly police the Capitol grounds.

GOL. ERNST'S PLAN THE CHEAPEST. Mr. O. B. Hallum thought the association Mr. O. B. Hallum thought the association should adopt the system proposed by Col. Ernst. It was cheaper by nearly $10,000 and then it was more liable to be adopted. If the association adopted the other scheme it would be antagonized by Col. Ernst. Then again it would cause a great deal of clashing between the day officers of Col. Ernst and the police officers, and it would be difficult to place responsibility. There was also a financial feature. If the metropolitan police were placed in control of the parks the local government would have to pay them, which would be an increase of nearly $18,000.

He did not think there would be any conflict on the grounds of concurrent jurisdiction. The police would not interfere with Col. Ernst's men, who were, as they are called in army parlance, "army police," whose duty was to sweep and keep the grounds clean.

Mr. M. L. Weller also spoke in favor of placing the parks and reservations under the metropolitan police. He spoke at length on the financial features, and said the additional expense would add to the fame of Washington, and could be done by a tax of 10 cents per capita.

He did not think Congress would transfer the jurisdiction of the parks to the chief of police, which would really mean the Commissioners of the District of Columbia, and did not think the association should ask it. A South Carolina Romance The marriage of E. V. Truesdale of Kershaw county, S. C., and Miss Bessie Phifer of Whitmires, S. C., yesterday afternoon, by Rev. Sam M. Col. Moore estimated that to properly police the parks and reservations day and night, not including the Capitol grounds, he would require an increased force of thirty-five men, eighteen of first class at $300 and seventeen of second class at $1,040 per year; total cost, $34,560.

FIGHTING IN KANSAS.

Miles. In a running fight with the Springfield, Kan., outlaws last evening four men were killed. The desperadoes numbered fifteen men who had taken part in the canon battle. They were discovered by the posse encamped in a guich south of Springfield. They had pickets out and soon discovered the posse. A couple of wagons, to which horses were hitched, were standing in readiness near their camp.

Into these vehicles the hunted men sprang and started off at a killing pace, with the posse, which was mounted on horseback, in swift pursuit For ten miles the desperadoes managed to keep beyond the range of the Winchesters of their pursuers, but thereafter the speed main-tained began to tell on their horses and the posse succeeded in getting within rife shot.

A running fight on the level plains was then kept up for over four miles, during which three of the outlaws were seen to tumble from their seats in the wagon, evidently having been shot. At the end of the four-mile run the horses of the pursuers became jaded and they made a detour of about half a mile to a ranch, where they procured fresh cattle and again started in pursuit.

LOOKING FOR DUNN'S MURDERERS. Deputy sheriffs are scouring the country to arrest men who are supposed to have been implicated in the murder of Sheriff Punn. A deputy sheriff brought in young Estes yesterday morning. He was one of the conspirators who planned the murdering raid of Tuesday morning, and his arrest brings into prominence the widespread organization formed for murderous purposes. He was a sort of chief engi-neer, making plans of the reads about the marked victims' houses, which are said to have been presented at the regular meetings of the Stevens and Steward county citizens' alliance, and these plaus were minutely followed. Estes' arrest makes four reported, and thirty-one more warrants are now out for service. The arrest makes four reported, and thirty-one more warrants are now out for service. Calvert, although not yet arrested, are undersurveillance. Trouble is looked for when the deputies enter Woodsdale.

A company of state militia under command of Capt. Hester arrived at Springfield Wednesday night and is camped in some vacant store rooms. A number of people were gathered about the streets during the day engaged in discussing the situation and wondering what the outcome would be, but they displayed no arms. The military had a quieting and soothing effect upon them also. Contrary to a report circulated freely, Judge Botkin did not go to Springfield at all. The judge intended to open and adjourn the court at 10 o'clock yesterday morning under the protection of the militia, but the project was abandoned, and he went to Pratt to attend the funeral of Sheriff At 11 o'clock Springfield attorneys decided

Gov. Humphreys received a dispatch yesterday afternoon from Adjutant General Roberts, dated Arkalon, stating that he had arrested and was holding four prisoners. He added that he anticipated no trouble as long as the troops remained. Gov. Humphreys immediately wired Adjutant General Roberts as follows: "You are only to hold prisoners until warrants can be secured and served upon them. There should be no unnecessary delay in this. "The force under your command," said the governor," must not be used to aggravate old troubles or precipitate new ones in a spirit of revenge or retaliation. Is the coroner level-headed and disposed to do his duty without fear or favor? Keep me fully advised." The governor had wired Judge Botkin that he could not put arms in the hands of deputy sheriffs. The adjutant general was further in-

of parties properly charged with the killing.

Botkin has shown no disposition to retire from the bench, and the impression prevails that he will remain, even if it becomes necessary to place his entire judicial district under military rule. The only way in which he can be re-moved is by impeachment, and this will hardly be tried again.

When at Stuttgart, Germany, during the Winter 1881-82, I was suffering from a severe attack of Bronchitis, which seemed to threaten Pneumonia. I met, at the Hotel Marquardt, Commander Beardsies, of the United States Navy. In speaking of my sickness, he remarked: "Doctor, you can cure that chest trouble of yours by using an Alloock's Ponous Plaster." "That may be true," I answered, "but where can I get the plaster?" "Anywhere in the civilized world, and surely here in Stuttgart. Whenever I have a cold, I always use one and find relief." I sent to the drug store for the plaster, and it did all that my friend had promised. Ever since then I have used it whenever suffering from a cold, and I have many times prescribed it for patients.

The Allcock's Plaster is the best to be had, and has saved many from severe illness, and undoubtedly, if used promptly, will save many valuable lives. Whenever one has a severe cold be should put on an Allcock's Plaster as soon as possible.
